

Commercial Printers & Publishers PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY

Like other professionals who provide a service, commercial printers and publishers are at risk for liability exposure. An unintended error or mix-up while performing the job could ruin an entire project, cause important deadlines to be missed, or result in additional expenses. Due to perceived—or real—negligence (as a result of insured services), a dissatisfied customer's allegation can quickly turn to litigation, putting a business owner's finances and reputation in danger. Our Commercial Printers & Publishers Professional Liability coverage can help by providing peace of mind about these uncertain circumstances, allowing our clients to stay focused on what they do best!
